Welcome Note: On behalf of Narayana College of Nursing, Nellore its an immense pleasure to invite you to join the Seminar at our prestigious college. We hope to provide a virtuous platform to sprinkle incredible knowledge with new enhancements in nursing education.

Introduction: This Seminar focused on instructional or training programs provided by the institution within the work setting. They are designed to increase knowledge, and eventually competency, by assisting staff in acquiring, maintaining, improving, and increasing skills and knowledge relevant to fulfilling the requirements of the position for which the individual has been hired. We believe all nurses are life-long learners, continuously developing their professional knowledge, skills, and attitudes with a spirit of inquiry.

Hospital admissions for heart failure are predicted to rise substantially over the next decade placing pressure on the health care system leading to an increase in health care costs. Globally the burden of heart failure is escalating with over 23 million people worldwide diagnosed with heart failure. The lifetime risk of developing heart failure is also high ranging from 30 to 42% in males and 32 to 39% in females. The majority of these patients will experience not one but several hospitalizations for acute heart failure over their lifetime.

This Seminar has been designed to upgrade the knowledge of nurses regarding health failure and its management.

Target Group: Nursing Faculty, Clinical Nurses, UG and PG Nursing Students.
